Gazette Attacks Highway Commission Setup; Star Replies

In its lead editorial Sunday, March 26, the Arkansas Gazette attacked the Mack-Blackwell amendment—a celebrated reform measure which created the constitutionally independent State Highway Commission that we have today.

What the Gazette has against an independent commission is spelled out plainly:

"What we have in Arkansas, in road building, is not a central state highway system but rather a combine of petty baronies in which each of the ruling commissioners takes 'his' fifth of the construction money and spends it just about as he pleases."

"Inevitably, it is the heavily populated areas—especially Pulaski and Jefferson counties—that come up with the short end in the dispositions of the slaphappy satrapies of Arkansas road-building. Pulaski and Jefferson are in separate districts (6 and 2, respectively) but share the same commissioner. The two districts have about a third of the state's population and generate about a third of the gas tax revenues."

"What can be done about the problem? Well, a constitutional amendment is the only definitive solution, but this is difficult, admittedly."

The only point on which the Gazette is correct is the last one—a constitutional repealer for the Mack-Blackwell amendment would be snowed under in a state-wide election. And for good reason.

Prior to the reform amendment Arkansas road building was at the mercy of the governor and the legislature, subject to political promises in the campaign and to legislative horse-trading in the years between.

The people set up an autonomous Highway Commission specifically to put road building out of the reach of the politicians, and, in all probability, to do the very job of which the Gazette now complains—to prevent the big centers of population from grabbing the lion's share of road funds.

The Gazette speaks for Little Rock—but the Mack-Blackwell amendment speaks for all the people of Arkansas.

There has been enough ill will stirred up by Little Rock's never-ending grab for state funds to guarantee she will never succeed in recapturing the state's road money.

What's wrong with the Mack-Blackwell amendment and its principle of spreading road money state wide? Don't Little Rock people have to travel throughout the state? Don't they need good roads in distant corners of Arkansas as much or more than they need paved streets in their city?

The Gazette is full of campaign rhetoric—but empty of common sense.

Berlin Wall Opened

By HUBERT J. ERB
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN (AP) — The Berlin wall opened to tens of thousands of West Berliners today. It was the first time in six years they received Communist permission to visit East Berlin and the first time in 20 they were allowed into the East German countryside.

East German borders guards lifted the barriers at nine crossing points at one minute before 6 a.m. and Westerners moved rapidly through the fortified strip. At one gate people literally ran past the guards.

There were smiles and hugs—but few tears—at the reunions of families and friends. "We are too glad to cry," said one West Berliner.

An elderly woman, the first to arrive at another crossing point, said she was going to see her children.

Bitter Debate on Higher Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a bitter debate, Senate-House conferees on the $23-billion higher-education bill have agreed on a student-assistance package from the Senate version, committee sources say.

Announcement of the decision has not been made and it could be reversed later, but sources said Tuesday the provision was accepted by House conferees on an 11-9 vote.

The plan, sponsored by Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., head of the Senate delegation and chairman of the education subcommittee, is designed to give more equitable financial aid to the nation's 8 million college students.

The plan, however, is opposed by Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., chief sponsor of the House bill. She favors continuance of present student-aid programs.

On the crucial vote, three Democrats joined with eight Republicans to agree to the Senate proposal. Nine Democrats opposed it. The administration backs Pell's plan.

The Pell plan would make every college student available for a maximum annual federal payment of $1,400 minus the amount that his family could reasonably be expected to contribute.

Middle-class families which tend to be overlooked in present aid programs thus would benefit, sponsors of the bill emphasize.

The Pell proposal also would reauthorize present student-aid programs to be used as supplements to the new basic grants.

These include grants for students from low-income families, work-study payments, National Defense Education Act low-interest loans, and government-guaranteed loans obtained from private lenders.

Severe Weather Hits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The low pressure storm center that brought severe weather to Arkansas Monday and Tuesday has moved to the east and was located over western Tennessee and southern Kentucky early today.

As the center moves farther toward the east, the National Weather Service said, skies in the state should be clearing with partly cloudy conditions prevailing by Thursday.

The Weather Service said colder air is spreading southward across the state behind the system and temperatures should be considerably cooler for the next two days. Some light snow was falling this morning in southwest Missouri and flurries were predicted for northwestern Arkansas.

Much colder temperatures are in store for tonight, the Weather Service said, with a moderate freeze expected in northern sections of the state.

A new low pressure system now developing over southern Nevada was expected to move southeastward during the next two days bringing the threat of more precipitation by Thursday afternoon or Thursday night, the Weather Service said.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the mid to high 30s in the northwest to the mid to high 50s in the southeast.

ITT Case Called Circus by Scott, GOPs Want It Halted

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — ITT President Harold S. Geneen was due back in the witness chair today as the Senate Judiciary Committee continued hearings on Richard G. Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said Tuesday the GOP will move soon to halt the hearings, which he called a "frantic exercise in irrelevancy." And, columnist Jack Anderson—whose syndicated stories brought about the hearings—said he, too, would like to see an end to "this circus."

Anderson suggested the Justice Department's settlement of three antitrust cases against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. was linked with the conglomerate's financial guarantee to help San Diego capture the 1972 Republican National Convention.

Geneen's testimony was suspended March 16 because of other Senate business and to permit a subcommittee to travel to a Denver hospital to question Dita D. Beard. Mrs. Beard is the ITT lobbyist whose alleged memo published by Anderson set off the controversy.

Scott, second-ranking Republican on the committee, said at the White House Tuesday there will be a movement, as soon as the committee meets in executive session, to terminate the hearings "and go on with the proceedings already on the calendar for the confirmation of Mr. Kleindienst."

An aide to committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said, however, he knew of no executive committee planned for today.

After today's session, the committee is expected to recess the hearings until April 5 even though Eastland said Tuesday "they can't go on forever."

Other Democrats on the committee have indicated they want to hear from a long line of witnesses connected with ITT or with the Nixon administration, particularly White House aide Peter Flanagan.

Anderson said someone at the hearings has been lying, pointing to the conflicts between the

Ranch Sells for Over Half Million Dollars

One of the largest land transactions in Hempstead history was announced March 29 by Vincent Foster of Foster Realty Co. here.

Some 7,710 acres known as the old Tom Jones place near Columbus was purchased by William Beaumont, Little Rock businessman, who plans a ranching operation of registered Angus cattle. The purchase price was in excess of a half million dollars.

Mr. Beaumont has named his operation the Grandview Ranch and plans improvements that will make it one of the finest cattle operations in this area.

Oil Portrait Is Donated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An oil portrait by Bernard C. Bronder of Mountain Home was donated to the state Tuesday.

The painting, titled "Patriarch of the Mountain," won the national senior portrait contest sponsored by the White House Conference on Aging last fall.

Bryant Gets 2 Foes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock and Vernon Whitten of Bearden paid their filing fees Tuesday to enter the Democratic primary for the office of secretary of state.

They seek the position held by Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, who has not said whether he will seek a sixth term.

Alagood is 47 and Whitten is 61.

Also filing Tuesday was state Sen. Ben Allen, 46, of Little Rock, who will run in the Democratic primary for a third term. The 1971 legislative reapportionment plan had placed Allen and Alagood in the same single-member district.

Other filings included:

—Rep. Roger Logan Jr., 27, of Harrison as a Democrat for re-election in District 25.

—Sen. Morris M. Henry, 40, of Fayetteville as a Democrat for re-election in District 7.

—Don Brown, 37, of Pine Bluff as a Democrat for the state Senate in District 24.

—Oliver L. Adams Jr., 32, of Rogers as a Republican to a third term as prosecuting attorney of the 10th Judicial District.

—Rep. John P. Bethell, 64, of Des Arc as a Democrat for re-election in District 51.

—Fletcher Long Jr., 29, of Forrest City as a Democrat for state representative in District 73.

—Pros. Atty. Walter Wright, 42, of Hot Springs as a Democrat for re-election in District 18.

—Chancellor Robert H. Dudley, 38, of Pocahontas as a Democrat for re-election in the 8th District.

—Rep. Kenneth R. Camp, 33, of Jonesboro as a Democrat for re-election in Pos. 2 of District 68.

—Rep. J. B. Smith, 38, of Marianna as a Democrat for re-election in District 75.

—John Gammon Jr., 68, a Negro, as a Democrat for state representative in District 83.

Progress on Annual Kiwanis Club Show

Progress is being made toward presentation of the 29th Annual Kiwanis Show, an event of April 14th on the stage of City Hall Auditorium at 8 P.M.

The funny men of previous shows, Eddie "Axle Grease" Whittman, Guy "Perpetual" Grigg, Harry "Mishap" Hawthorne, Andy "Short Stuff" Caldwell, and Horace "Litenin" Fuller will be joined by a new comer Jim "8 Ball" Tate. A new "Mr. Interlocutor", Larry Patterson will be the target of some of their jokes.

The Specialty Acts will bring back some of the favorites of last year in new acts. Jim and Claudia Hart will be singing; the Barber Shop Quartet will be back; Miss Nancy Ross, Dr. Lowell Harris, Hobert Shirley and Larry Keel, Bobbye and Dean Murphy, and Luke and Duke will also be returning in their specialties.

Mrs. W. H. Peterson, Jr., will be the accompanist with Winfred Huckabee assisting on the guitar.

The 1972 Kiwanis Show promises to be one and one half to two hours of good clean fun and entertainment, with all the proceeds used for Kiwanis Youth Work and work with the Golden Age Club.

Big Chains Called in on High Meat Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary John B. Connally called executives of 12 large food chains to a "quiet Texas chat" today over rising meat prices.

The closed-door session represents another move by the Nixon administration to try to stem the tide of recent sharp increases in food prices.

As Connally prepared for the meeting, the Cost of Living Council announced it is moving on four fronts to try to slow food prices, an area drawing more heat than any other part of President Nixon's price-control program.

The council said, for instance, that the Internal Revenue Service will begin immediately "intensive compliance surveys" on several large meat-packing organizations "to determine whether price violations are occurring in the total meat delivery chain from on-the-roof to retail."

One administration source said several "prosecutions can be expected."

Last week, President Nixon announced the government would be investigating the middleman to determine if he is profiting from food pricing systems.

The council said several wholesalers are currently under investigation to assure compliance with price regulations. And it was learned that 17 manufacturing firms with annual sales of at least $100 million each are under scrutiny.

A number of major food chains are undergoing what the council calls "substantive compliance surveys" to get new information on meat-pricing practices.

In addition, the council said, it will look closely at quarterly reports of major food chains "to isolate instances of excessive profits which may be attributable to illegal mark-ups."

The council said IRS, which polices the controls, will be asked to investigate all possible violations.

The 12 food-chain executives called to meet with Connally, represent Great Atlantic & Pacific Co., Safeway Stores Inc., Kroger Co., Acme Markets Inc., National Tea Co., Jewel Companies, Lucky Stores Inc., Grand Union Co., Allied Supermarket Inc., Supermarkets General Corp., First National Stores Inc. and Stop and Shop Co.

A&P, Safeway, Kroger and Acme are the nation's four largest food chains, according to sales information on file at the Price Commission.

Ecologists' Arguments on Gillham Dam Are Rejected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U. S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Eisele tentatively has rejected the arguments by ecologists that the Army Engineers' environmental impact statement on the proposed Gillham Dam project did not meet legal standards of objectivity.

The rejection was not in a court order but was contained in a letter from Eisele to Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana, attorney for a group of conservationists who are opposed to construction of the dam on the Cossatot River in southwest Arkansas.

Arnold responded to the judge Tuesday with a letter asking Eisele to reconsider his position.

In his letter, Eisele said Congress, in passing the National Environmental Protection Act, had required that "objective" environmental impact statements be made before the completion of any large public works project, but that it left the preparation of the statements to the agencies that would build the projects.

No one should expect a dam-building agency to be anything but pro-dam, Eisele said, because then nothing would get built.

"It is clear that Congress was not looking for the type of objectivity and impartiality that one would expect from judicial, quasi-judicial or even-independent administrative tribunals," Eisele said.

Eisele said that in order to prepare an "objective" environmental impact statement, the engineers must make a "good-faith effort to comply with the provisions of NEPA." Such an effort, he said, would have to include the environmental impact of the proposed project, and adverse effects that could possibly be avoided, any irreversible commitment of resources that would be necessitated by the project and any alternatives to the proposed project.

The statement filed Jan. 13 by the engineers contains material on each of those points, but the environmentalists contend it is faulty and—or biased in favor of the project.

Arnold objected to the statement shortly after it was filed, saying it did not meet the standards set by the NEPA.

It was to that brief that Eisele directed his March 22 letter, in which he said that his views on the subject were "tentative, but rather firm."

Arnold's reply to the letter, dated Monday, asked Eisele to reconsider his position, saying that "plaintiffs are of the opinion that the court's tentative views with respect to this issue are not in accordance with the statute."

Thornton Files for 4th District Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton of Sheridan filed Tuesday for Congress in the 4th District, saying residents were concerned about the increasing cost of food.

He said there was a feeling they somehow have been left out of the mainstream of development.

"They are concerned about weaknesses in the moral fiber of our society," he said. "They feel that government agencies often do not care about or even notice the problems of individual people."

Thornton, 43, joins Richard Mays of El Dorado and Richard Arnold of Texarkana in filing for the Democratic nomination to the position that will be vacated by Rep. David Pryor, who is running for the U.S. Senate. Jack Coleman of McGehee, the other announced candidate for the congressional seat, has not filed.

Asked about his position on the controversial Gillham Dam project, Thornton pointed out that litigation was spending in federal court at Little Rock on whether to lift an injunction that halted work on the dam.

"It appears to me that a majority of the people in Southwest Arkansas seem to favor completion of the project, but any candidate for Congress should respect the division of powers and leave decisions on matters of law to the courts," he said. "If, and when, legal barriers have been removed, it becomes an obligation and responsibility for all candidates for Congress to work untiringly for the completion of work authorized by law."

All Around Town

The Corps of Engineers report from Millwood Lake shows the water just above normal at 259.22 feet with a discharge from 2,000 cubic feet per second from two tainter and two sluice gates.

The water is steady and clear and 159,000 persons visited the lake during February. Bass are going good at the Treeline, Big Bayou and the Saline on Rebels, Red Fins, purple and black worms.

Crappie good on minnows, Yellow Jigs and Bitty Bite at Hatcher and Cannon Field and Bakers Bend. Large catfish are slow in the Channel.

The annual Easter singing will be held at Corinth Baptist Church, South of Bodcaw, April 2. Singing starts at 10:30. Lunch will be served at noon, according to Pastor Hollida Dillard.

All local schools will dismiss classes Friday and Monday for the Easter Holidays. Regular classes on full schedule will be resumed on Tuesday, April 4, according to Superintendent James H. Jones.

UMY will meet Wednesday, (tonight) at 7:30 in the home of Jack Turner for a special Easter meeting.

Dr. Fred Faas, University of Arkansas Medical Center, will be in Hope the morning of April 4, to meet with doctors of the area. Dr. Faas in one of the consultants in the University Medical Extension Service. The sessions are held in relation to various problems experienced by local physicians and the courses are extension of new techniques and methods being taught at the Medical Center.

More stormy weather moved into this area late yesterday and this county was under a tornado watch until 9 p.m. The Experiment Station reported .45 of an inch of rain with temperatures of 69 and 43. There were reports of hail in some areas mainly in a section between Hope and Fulton. Hail the previous day caused considerable damage at the Experiment Station.

Nader Suit Dismissed

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A state Superior Court judge today dismissed a lawsuit filed by Ralph Nader challenging a controversial Justice Department settlement permitting the merger of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. and Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

ITT headquarters in New York issued a statement saying it was "gratified" by the decision denying the appeal of consumer advocate Nader, who sought to overturn the decision of former Insurance Commissioner William Cotter.

Cotter's decision permitted ITT to tender for the stock of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. Some 99 per cent of the Hartford stock was subsequently transferred to ITT.

A spokesman said "this was Nader's third attempt to overturn the ITT-Hartford affiliation and on all three occasions he had been rebuffed."

Bombs Explode Near Soviet Ship

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An explosion occurred in Biscayne Bay early today less than a mile from where the Soviet research ship Akademik Kurchatov was docked for its controversial Miami visit.

Windows were shattered in homes on Venetian Island north of the Dodge Island dock where the Soviet vessel was preparing to sail on this afternoon's high tide.

Minutes before the 3:30 a.m. blast, a man who refused to give his name telephoned The Associated Press in Miami and said in a Spanish accent, "Listen to Biscayne Bay. Biscayne Bay is mined."

The Akademik Kurchatov's four-day port of call has been marked by clashes between Cuban refugee protesters and police. Members of the Jewish Defense League also picketed when the ship docked Saturday.

"We had such tight security in operation for the Soviet ship that is why they probably couldn't get close to it," a spokesman for Dade County Police Department said.

Demonstrations against the presence of the 404-foot, 170-man vessel here were quiet Tuesday on the eve of its departure.

Police outnumbered about 40 college-age demonstrators who showed up at the foot of a bridge leading to Miami's port. The youths sang the Cuban national anthem and waved placards reading, "Russian Communist Murderers."

They did not attempt to cross the drawbridge to the docks. Sunday a melee was touched off when about 2,000 demonstrators started to surge across the bridge. Two persons were injured and five arrested.

Rules Ford Spark Plug a Violation

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford violated antitrust law when it entered the spark plug business and took over the "Autolite" name, the Supreme Court concluded 7 to 0.

The ruling on the 1961 acquisition requires the motor company to sell off the spark plug factory in Fostoria, Ohio, and not to manufacture spark plugs for 10 years.

The acquisition aggravated an already oligopolistic, or limited, market, Justice William O. Douglas said for the court, but with new merchandisers expected to grow substantially in the next decade the separation of Ford from Autolite should increase the competition.

At the time of the acquisition, Ford did not make spark plugs or batteries and was the largest purchaser from independents. General Motors already had its own, AC brand.

At that time, Autolite had 15 per cent of the spark plug market, GM had about 30 per cent, and Champion had 50 per cent. A number of smaller producers shared the remaining market.

Douglas took note of the argument that Ford's acquisition of Autolite increased competition against Champion and General Motors. But, he said, "a merger is not saved from illegality ... because, on some ultimate reckoning of social or economic debits and credits, it may be deemed beneficial." He said the deal set up virtually insurmountable barriers to the entry of new companies in the market.

The decision agrees with the finding of chief U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman of Detroit. Much of the controversy in the case has been over a divestiture.

Here, there was disagreement on the high court with Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun opposed to some of the steps taken by the majority.

Burger said this restriction on Ford has a "draconian quality" and that there should be further proceedings in the district court first. Blackmun said the restrictions were "confiscatory and punitive." He said to keep Ford from using its own name on spark plugs "is to deny it a property right that has little to do with this litigation."

GAYLON DECIOUS

Kiwanian Gaylon Decious, Pastor of Hope's First Christian Church, had charge of Tuesday's Kiwanis Club program.

In keeping with this season of the year, this week being Holy Week, the program titled "The Words from the Cross" was most appropriate.

The Rev. Decious showed film strips, complete with sound, depicting two facets of the life of the Savior - Service and Concern.

From the cross Jesus said, "I thirst", expressing a need shared by all mankind, not necessarily a physical thirst, but a thirst for love and understanding.

Jesus also said, "Love one another". Love is a much abused word, but the kind of love Jesus meant is the caring, sharing kind of love. Love is Faith in Action.

Chaplain Cites Mystery Man in Love Triangle

By F. T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Denying he had sexual relations with a Navy pilot's wife, Navy Chaplain Andrew J. Jensen has testified that the woman was actually transferring her love to a mystery man.

Cmdr. Jensen, 43, took the stand Tuesday in his own defense at a court-martial in which he is accused of adultery with 24-year-old Mary Ann Curran and another Navy wife, Lora Gudbranson.

Mrs. Curran testified last week to 17 specific instances of sexual intercourse with Jensen after he suggested she transfer to him her affection for a man she had an affair with in Texas.

Her husband hired Jensen as a marriage counselor after the Curran couple moved to this area in 1970.

Jensen testified Mrs. Curran "revealed she was transferring her affection for the man in Beeville, Tex., to an unnamed man who was brought forth here the other day."

They mystery man was brought up but not identified by Mrs. Curran, a registered nurse, who testified of four sexual experiences with him at the time she was seeing the chaplain.

At one time when he was counselling her, Jensen said, Mrs. Curran told him she planned to marry the unnamed man. At the time, he said, she was separated from her husband.

"Later she saw the man with his wife and was very upset," he testified. "She said she thought he was insincere in his motives. A few days after that she decided to go back with her husband."

Jensen described his relations with Mrs. Curran as "very professional."

He specifically denied each of the liaisons she had described.

Mrs. Curran went back to her husband in early November 1970, said Jensen, and that made him happy "because I was trying to keep their marriage together."

"She said when she told you she was going back with her husband, you said, 'All right but let's have a little sex first.' Is that the truth?" Blackmun asked.

"It's completely out of character for me," Jensen replied. "It's a false quotation."

Contention Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today attacked the contention of United Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle that he was merely conducting business as usual in authorizing political contributions.

Charles Ruff, chief of the government prosecuting team, zeroed in on Boyle's testimony that he was following procedure established by John L. Lewis, former UMW president.

Ruff, in his closing arguments, recalled testimony by a government witness that Lewis said congressmen could go elsewhere to get their money after they passed the Taft-Hartley Act which prohibited political contributions with union funds.

Ruff maintained that Boyle initiated the large scale contributions when politicians began to capitalize on the fund raising dinner and similar devices in the mid-1960s.

Boyle and his fellow defendants could learn today whether they will go free or stand convicted of a felony. The case goes to a U.S. District Court jury following conclusion of argument and the judge's charge.

Boyle, John Owens, secretary-treasurer, and James Kmetz, head of the union's political arm, are charged with conspiracy and taking part in contributions totaling $49,250 from union funds.

FDA Reveals Secret—Some Foods Filthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Breaking a 61-year-old secret, the FDA has made public guidelines on how much filth it considers unavoidable and tolerable in food.

The eight-page list indicates the quantity of insect fragments, rat manure, maggots, worms and mold the government regulators allow in food.

For example, the FDA said it overlooks one rat or mouse pellet in each pint of wheat, up to 100 million bacteria in a gram of dried eggs and 2,500 aphids per 10 grams of hops.

FDA officials said Tuesday that the contaminants in their opinion pose no health hazard and rarely, if ever, are detected by consumers.

If the government allowed no filth in food, general counsel Peter Hutt said, "there would be no legal food in the United States."

He emphasized, however, that food may be seized at defect levels below the tolerance limits, if investigations disclose unsanitary manufacturing practices.

The guidelines date back to 1911 when, under the earliest food-and-drug act, the government clamped limits on mold in tomato pulp. They were expanded over the years to cover scores of fruits, vegetables, fish, spices, nuts, chocolate, coffee beans, eggs, grain, flour and jam and jelly.

The FDA said it kept the guidelines secret for fear food processors would regard them as targets rather than maximum limits. But it said the food industry learned of the tolerances through various seizures, however, and consumers remained the only persons in the dark.

John T. Walden, deputy assistant commissioner for public affairs, said the public disclosure was prompted by demands from consumers and news media and the threat of a freedom-of-information lawsuit.

GOPs May Enter All Congress Districts

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state Republican official says the party might offer candidates for Congress in all four districts this year as well as contenders for the U.S. Senate and several of the state constitutional offices.

But Neal Sox Johnson, executive secretary of the state GOP, said Tuesday this was a rebuilding year for Republicans, coming off widespread losses in the 1970 elections, and that they did not want to set unattainable goals beyond their resources and manpower.

"We're going to put our talent and our money where we feel we've got good, realistic chances of electing candidates," Johnson said.

With the filing deadline not far away—the ticket closes at noon next Tuesday—the only Republican to file for Congress is Rep. John Paul Hamerschmidt, the 3rd District.

Johnson said the party had "some very interested, very qualified" persons looking at the congressional races in the other three districts, but that none had made a decision.

No Republican has filed for the Senate position held by John L. McClellan, the five-term veteran who has three Democratic opponents to his reelection. But Dr. Wayne Babbitt is expected to enter the race on the Republican ticket.

He has resigned as area director of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, saying that he has political plans.

Former Welfare Commissioner Len E. Blaylock is the lone GOP candidate for governor, although Johnson said others were interested.

"Whether or not they choose to go in 1972 is something I don't particularly know at the present time," he said.

Johnson said the Republicans probably would have candidates for three or four of the other state constitutional offices, but he would not identify them.

"We feel real optimistic about our statewide races, particularly about the governor's race," Johnson said.

"We know it's going to be a very tough campaign, but we think there is vulnerability there and that we've got a candidate (Blaylock) who can do an outstanding job of getting the people concerned and involved in government. If the people will stop and listen, this candidate can get elected."

Gov. Dal Bumpers, seeking a second two-year term, and state Rep. George W. Davis of Horatio are the only declared Democratic candidates for governor, although several other persons have been reported to be considering the race.

Through Tuesday, 10 Republicans had filed for the Arkansas House and two for the Senate, but Johnson expects an eventual GOP slate of about 10 senatorial hopefuls and about 20 House candidates.

Food Price Survey

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Thirty-five housewives and student volunteers surveyed the prices on 52 items in 34 supermarkets in Arkansas Tuesday, the Arkansas Consumer Research said.

Survey results are expected in two weeks, the nonprofit public interest group said.

The survey covered supermarkets in Little Rock, North Little Rock, Fayetteville and Springdale and was designed to determine what price differences exist from chain to chain, product to product, store to store and town to town.

Both the bride-elect and the prospective groom are to be graduated from Southern State College of Magnolia in May. The bride-to-be is a sociology major, and the future bridegroom is a speech major.

An invitation is extended to all friends and relatives with no personal invitations being sent.

Helen Bottel Helen Help Us!

This Is "Fairy Tale" Love
DEAR HELEN:

I've been secretly in love with a certain man for ten years. I've even stopped going to church because my heart aches like a young fool's every time I see him.

You see, I'm married to another man and have two children. The person I have always loved—even before my marriage—is a priest.

Should I tell him about my feelings so that maybe he could help me? —PRIEST'S ADMIRER

Dear Admirer: What you call love is mostly romantic fantasy—like the dreams a pregnant woman has about her obstetrician. Yours have lasted longer because they're all mixed up with worship and, too, because you may not have allowed yourself to really grow up.

In this case, "confession" wouldn't help. But consultation with a counselor (perhaps a wise, older priest) might bring you face to face with reality.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

The student voter who said each child costs parents around

$2,000 a year, so their income-tax deductions should be for that amount rather than for $675, is evidently thinking as a prospective father of many.

As a single person who has had to support schools with my tax dollars, I would make a counter-suggestion: make parents pay higher taxes with each added child. After all, public schools cost, and those who benefit should foot the bill, not us childless people!

Even though I marry, I do not plan to have children, as there are too many in the world already. Meanwhile, I pay tremendous taxes, because I have no "dependents."—FOR A "CHILDLESS" DECUCTION DEAR FCD:

Here's MY suggestion: Let's drop economics in favor of good old family relationships.

Each time I venture out of my field (into religion, politics, the law) I jump into a hornet's nest of controversy.

So...back to the man-woman thing!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Tony's letter could have been written about any of my sons. He describes the same kind of overly strict and rigid father as is the man who happens to be my husband.

Our boys are grown now but the results of their father's attitudes toward them when they were growing up are tragic. He lost them completely by his bossiness, unreasonable criticism, and the belief that next to God, he was THE authority on every sin.

My life was full of turmoil and heartache, trying to be the go-between. The youngsters were and are terrific. No problems; good, active kids. They all have good careers now, but their father still sneers and criticizes and complains each time he sees them.

What is the saddest thing about this? They refuse to have anything to do with their father. They try to visit when he's away. They ignore his cutting remarks. He could be a stranger to them.

He was a good provider, but as you said in your letter to Tony, this type of "king" can never be human. As a result, he's a very lonely man—and he blames everyone but himself.

May I add a plea to your good answer: Please, parents (and mothers can be just as guilty as fathers), treat your children with as much consideration as you would extend to a friend—for

To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801. All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

Book Sale Success

Editor the Star: As a member of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, may I express my thanks for the publicity you and your staff gave our BOOK SALE last week-end.

The result of our efforts, combined with newspaper and radio coverage, brought us very close to reaching our goal of raising money for the Senior High School Scholarship in one effort. Since most of our members are directly involved in teaching, working people such as you, the time we save in our money-making projects is very valuable to us.

Thank you for helping us to continue to do worth-while work in the area of education. Sincerely,

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Medical science has made it possible for most people to be born and to die without needless pain. Now science and medicine are trying to find ways so we can live without it. That was the message of NBC's excellent documentary Tuesday night, "Pain: Where Does It Hurt?"

The program, probing an area previously untouched by television, showed the operation of the unique "pain clinic" of the University of Washington in Seattle. It recorded conversations with physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists, therapists and patients. The result was an engrossing exposition of techniques being used to help chronic sufferers.

Pain, it was explained, may be organic or psychological, but one doctor said, "Psychological pain can hurt as much as cancer or broken bones." Another noted that "it is impossible to judge how much other people hurt"—but the researchers are trying to find out.

Efforts to relieve pain take many forms including acupuncture, hypnosis, exercise, psychiatric treatment, surgery and, of course, medication. Many of these were explored on the program.

It was beautifully organized, clear and—above all—helpful. It is a program that would bear repeating.

Earlier NBC presented a well-intentioned sugar-coated editorial on ecology and conservation. Called "Arthur Godfrey's Portable Electric Medicine Show," an assortment of talented performers—Ken Berry, Jack Cassidy, Carol Lawrence and Arte Johnson among them—were given unimpressive material through which to convey the message.

For example, Ken Berry appeared as a singing trash pile in a musical number urging the public to avoid littering and to stand strong for recycling paper and metals. Other subjects treated in song and story were the exploitation of the Indian and protection of wildlife.

The result was a sort of ham-handed "Sesame Street" for adults. Almost everybody is in favor of a cleaner environment and against exploitation, but lectures and entertainment mix about as well as oil and water—unless very artfully blended.

Burt Reynolds, taking over "The Tonight Show" on Johnny when they become adults, this is what they can be—the best friends you could ever have!—VOICE OF EXPERIENCE DEAR V OF E:

...And not just "when they become adults": children treated with consideration are your FRIENDS all through childhood—and therefore much easier to raise.—H.

Revival Speaker Here

MR. MARTEL PACE

The Hope Church of Christ will have a gospel meeting April 3-9 with Martel Pace of Swartz Creek, Michigan, as speaker for the series.

Mr. Pace is a native of Arkansas but was reared in Flint, Michigan. He attended Freed-Hardeman and Harding College and Harding Graduate School of Religion. His pastorates include Prescott where he served from 1957 to 1959. Mr. Pace conducted a daily radio program for some years in Flint and was the regular speaker on station KXAR of Hope while serving the Prescott Church.

Some of his topics here will be "Amazing Grace," "Christ and the New Morality," "Does It Do Any Good to Preach the Gospel?" and others. The meetings start each night at 7:30 o'clock. Thursday he will speak at 6:45 especially to young people on the subject, "Does God Exist?" Milton Peebles, minister of the Hope Church of Christ, extends a welcome to the public to attend.

Rosston Church Plans Services

First Baptist Church of Rosston will hold revival services from March 30 through April 1. The Rev. Ernest Evans is the evangelist. Pastor Joe Dickey reports the services will be held nightly starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Blue Says He'll Play But Hasn't Signed

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vida Blue, the best pitcher in baseball last season, playfully shuffled the papers on the desk and quipped, "another hard day at the office."

The 22-year-old Oakland A's holdout admitted Tuesday that his mind is still set on playing baseball this year despite foreseeing no immediate agreement in contract talks with A's owner Charles O. Finley.

"I may sound like a fool," said Vida. "I'm going to play baseball this season and if I play, I'm going to be happy."

Does this mean that Blue will come down from his demand, already lowered from more than $100,000 to $75,000, or that Finley may come up from his apparently unyielding offer of $50,000?

He said "nothing has happened" to bring him closer to a settlement. He rejected Finley's latest offer, $50,000 plus a reported payment up to $5,000 to his attorney, Robert Gerst of Los Angeles.

"I'm still at the same place I was when we first met on Jan. 8 in Chicago," Blue said of the meeting that opened contract negotiations.

"I thought there would be an

Can't Shake the Image

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — As a member of the Houston Astros organization in the 1960s, Hal King earned a reputation as a good hitter but poor field catcher. Shaking that image has been difficult.

"I've always concentrated on being a good hitter because that's where the money is," the Texas Ranger catcher says. "If you don't hit, you don't make good money. Now, though, I've learned that if you can't catch you can't make the team."

The 6-foot-1, 208-pound catcher's hitting caught Ranger manager Ted Williams' eye during spring training last year and, at the 1971 winter meetings, King was obtained from Atlanta in a deal for catcher Paul Casanova.

"I don't think anybody has allowed King to catch as much as he should've in the past," Williams says. "All the reports on him were the same, good hit, no glove. But heck, no one ever gave him a chance to get some experience behind the plate."

"So far he hasn't been the putcher behind the plate he was cranked up to be. He's not the most graceful catcher you'll ever see, but he hustles and gives you a workmanlike job each day and he's improving."

"His bat will be a big help to us, especially since he hits from the left side where we needed some punch. Right now I plan to use him as a starter against all righthand pitchers and use Dick Billings against lefties."

King credits much of his spring success to Williams' presence, a beneficial season of winter ball in Venezuela and his improved physical condition.

"This camp is just as tough as all the others I've been to. I've run just as much as anywhere else, but I've run harder because I'm happy to be here playing for Williams."

Nets Within Halt Game of Squires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets won two games Tuesday night—theirs and Virginia's.

New York closed out its regular season with a 92-86 victory over the Indiana Pacers, while the Virginia Squires dropped a 127-121 decision to the Carolina Cougars.

As a result, the Nets pulled within one half-game of Virginia in the race for second place in the American Basketball Association's East Division. The Squires wind up their regular schedule at Memphis tonight.

If Virginia loses tonight, the teams will finish in a tie with 44-40 won-loss records. A one-game playoff would be held to determine the second place finisher.

What's the difference between finishing second and third?

The difference is in first-

Armed Forces Stars Win

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—The Armed Forces All-Stars downed Marathon Oil of Lexington 92-80 to take their fifth straight National AAU championship Tuesday night.

The All-Stars trailed 43-42 at halftime, but pulled away early in the second half on three straight field goals by Gregg Popovich to lead 56-54.

Then, Phil Argento tossed one in for the Oilmen, knotting the score for the final time at 56-54.

From there on, the Armed Forces outscored Lexington all the way, holding their biggest lead of the game, 78-64, with 6:17 to play.

This year's championship game was a rematch of last year's AAU contest, which saw Marathon defeated by the All-Stars 90-77.

Marathon's 6-foot guard Kenny Davis poured in 28 points, and hit a 10-foot jumper that put Lexington in the lead just before the halftime buzzer. Argento added 20 for the Oilmen and Cecil Tuttle had 16.

Two-time All-American Don Crenshaw led the winners with 20 points—connecting for five points in the closing minutes to put the game away.

In the AAU consolation game played, the California Junior College All-Stars took a 105-93 win over Marion Kay of Brownstown, Ind.

Floridians Are Moving

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The Floridians of the American Basketball Association apparently are moving to Cincinnati.

The attorney for a 10-member Cincinnati group said Tuesday the team is theirs "barring some unforeseen barrier in negotiations with Floridian owner Ned Doyle."

Ron Grinker said the purchase price of $1.5 million had been agreed upon and Floridian Vice President David Zack admitted the Cincinnati group "is the leading contender. Hopefully, we'll close it sometime this week."

The Floridians, averaging well under 2,500 at Miami Beach Convention Hall, have been losing almost $1 million a year for Doyle, a retired New York advertising millionaire.

The league must agree to any transfer.

Doyle paid $1 million for the broadcasting franchise two years ago and underwrote a barrage of promotions including bikini-clad ballgirls in an attempt to

Williams Best Grid Returner

NEW YORK (AP) — Travis Williams of Los Angeles, who blazed an electrifying 105 yards for a touchdown against New Orleans, was the National Football League's leading kickoff return specialist in 1971.

"The Roadrunner" of the Rams, who led the league in 1967 when he played for Green Bay, topped the runback men with a 29.7-yard average on 25 kickoff returns totaling 743 yards.

Ron Jessie of the Detroit Lions was second in the league and the National Conference with a 29.4 average on 16 returns totaling 470 yards.

The American Conference leader, fifth over-all, was Mercury Morris of the Miami Dolphins, who averaged 28.2 yards, amassing 423 yards on 15 returns.

Williams, whose 105-yard scamper in the Rams' nationally televised game Dec. 5 against the Saints, had the season's longest runback. The AFC's longest runback also came on Dec. 5 when Morris ripped off a 94-yarder for a touchdown against New England.

And Morris' feat was the only kickoff return for a touchdown in the AFC. Conversely, in the NFC, eight were run back for scores, two apiece by Jessie and Isaac Thomas of the Dallas Cowboys. Williams, Dave Hampton of Green Bay, Rocky Thompson of the New York Giants and George Hoyer of St. Louis had the others.

Trevino Ranked Mild Favorite

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Lee Trevino, coming off a week's rest and primed by some unusually serious preparations, ranked as a mild favorite in an exceptionally strong field arrayed for the $200,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"By the time the tournament starts, I'll have in six or eight practice rounds," he said Tuesday before another prep session on the 7,034-yard, par 36-35-71

Long Bunter Back at His Old Tricks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bob Robertson won instant fame in the 1971 World Series as the world's longest bunter. Now, he's trying to win acclaim as a spring training blaster—and without the bunt sign.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' first baseman hit a home run against Baltimore last October to win a Series' game. He didn't know until he had circled the bases that Manager Danny Murtaugh had signaled for a sacrifice.

Robertson homered twice against St. Louis Tuesday for a 6-2 exhibition baseball victory. It was the second time within a week he slugged two homers in a game. The pair against the Cards gives him five for the spring training games and 16 runs batted in.

In other games, Cincinnati topped Houston 7-3, Baltimore routed Texas 6-1, Detroit nipped the New York Mets 5-4, Philadelphia edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2, Los Angeles trimmed the New York Yankees 6-5, Minnesota and Boston tied 3-3 in a contest stopped by rain, California beat Oakland 6-1, the Chicago Cubs downed San Diego 8-6, Cleveland defeated San Francisco 6-2, Milwaukee clipped the Cleveland "B" team, 5-3, and the Montreal Expos beat the Atlanta Braves 5-4 in 10 innings.

Denis Menke homered and Joe Morgan and Cesar Geronimo each drove in runs for Cincinnati. All three are former Houston Astros, taking a little preseason revenge.

Bobby Grich doubled in two runs in the third inning and Andy Etchebarren homered for two more Baltimore runs.

Mets' pitcher Brent Strom's balk gave Detroit its winning

Bucks Upset by Warriors, Lakers Riddle the Bulls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Is Oscar Robertson, one of the greatest players in National Basketball Association history, hurting to the point where it will cost the Milwaukee Bucks defense of their league title?

The 33-year-old Robertson, the NBA's second leading all-time scorer and top playmaker, has been suffering from a strained muscle in his abdomen since Feb. 4.

It showed Tuesday night as the Bucks were upset by the Golden State Warriors 117-106 in the opening game of their best-of-seven Western Conference semifinal series at Milwaukee.

In the other Western Conference semifinal, the Los Angeles Lakers, who won a record 69 games during the regular season, began their series against Chicago by wearing down the injury-riddled Bulls 95-80 at Los Angeles.

The Boston Celtics, for many years the league's most dominant team, make their first post-season appearance in three seasons, entertaining the Atlanta Hawks tonight in the opening game of the Eastern Conference playoffs.

The other Eastern Conference semifinal begins Friday night at Baltimore, with the Bullets facing the New York Knicks.

All series are best-of-seven games.

In the American Basketball Association Tuesday night, it was: Carolina 127, Virginia 121; Kentucky 134, Pittsburgh 132; New York 92, Indiana 86; Floridians 118, Memphis 107, and Dallas 98, Utah 95.

Golden State's Jim Barnett, who was guarded by Robertson, ran Oscar ragged and scored a game-high 30 points for the Warriors.

Kareem-Jabbar, the league's leading scorer and Most Valuable Player for the second straight year, led the Bucks with 28 points, seven below his average. Robertson, seeing his most extensive action since suffering his injury, had 23.

Guards Gail Goodrich with 32 points and Jerry West with 23 keyed Los Angeles' victory over Chicago. Each scored six points when the Lakers ran off 15 consecutive points early in the third period and moved from a 49-43 deficit to a commanding 58-49 lead.

Not only did the Bulls lose the game, they lost two players by injuries. Center Tom Boerwinkle again tore fibers in the back of his left knee, and Coach Dick Motta said the 7-foot pivotman wouldn't play again in the series.

Forward Chet Walker, a 20-point scorer during the regular season but held to five by the Lakers, also suffered an injury to his left knee and is not expected to play in the series' second game Thursday night.

Sprinters Head Field

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two sprinters and two invaders headed up a field of eight 3-year-old fillies for today's $25,000-added Magnolia Stakes at Oaklawn Park.

Apple Jackie and Hepens Song, the speedsters, and Aromante and La Brisa, the invaders, are all topweighted at 121 pounds, as is Pattie Punkin.

Apple Jackie, owned by Larry Wolken, Miles Cooperman and Doug Davis Jr., has beaten Hempens Song once this year. Hempens Song, however, has never finished worse than second in any of her starts.

Apple Jackie was to be ridden by Larry Snyder and Louis Spindler was to be aboard Hempens Song.

La Brisa has come close to beating some of the best 3-year-old fillies in Florida this winter. She will be ridden by Bobby Breen. Aromante will be ridden by J.O. Garcia.

Also entered in the six-furlong test are Blade O'War (115), Bridget O'Brick (118) and Manches Grises (118).

In Tuesday's $17,500 allowance feature for 3-year-olds, Gomer Evans' Hunting Cap sped to the lead in the stretch and coasted to a 3½-length victory over R.N. Hardin's Green Country.

Time for the six furlongs of slow course was 1:12 3-5.

Ron Jessie of the Detroit Lions was second in the league and the National Conference with a 29.4 average on 16 returns totaling 470 yards.

The American Conference leader, fifth over-all, was Mercury Morris of the Miami Dolphins, who averaged 28.2 yards, amassing 423 yards on 15 returns.

Williams, whose 105-yard scamper in the Rams' nationally televised game Dec. 5 against the Saints, had the season's longest runback. The AFC's longest runback also came on Dec. 5 when Morris ripped off a 94-yarder for a touchdown against New England.

And Morris' feat was the only kickoff return for a touchdown in the AFC. Conversely, in the NFC, eight were run back for scores, two apiece by Jessie and Isaac Thomas of the Dallas Cowboys. Williams, Dave Hampton of Green Bay, Rocky Thompson of the New York Giants and George Hoyer of St. Louis had the others.

Armed Forces Stars Win

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—The Armed Forces All-Stars downed Marathon Oil of Lexington 92-80 to take their fifth straight National AAU championship Tuesday night.

The All-Stars trailed 43-42 at halftime, but pulled away early in the second half on three straight field goals by Gregg Popovich to lead 56-54.

Then, Phil Argento tossed one in for the Oilmen, knotting the score for the final time at 56-54.

From there on, the Armed Forces outscored Lexington all the way, holding their biggest lead of the game, 78-64, with 6:17 to play.

This year's championship game was a rematch of last year's AAU contest, which saw Marathon defeated by the All-Stars 90-77.

Marathon's 6-foot guard Kenny Davis poured in 28 points, and hit a 10-foot jumper that put Lexington in the lead just before the halftime buzzer. Argento added 20 for the Oilmen and Cecil Tuttle had 16.

Two-time All-American Don Crenshaw led the winners with 20 points—connecting for five points in the closing minutes to put the game away.

In the AAU consolation game played, the California Junior College All-Stars took a 105-93 win over Marion Kay of Brownstown, Ind.

Floridians Are Moving

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The Floridians of the American Basketball Association apparently are moving to Cincinnati.

The attorney for a 10-member Cincinnati group said Tuesday the team is theirs "barring some unforeseen barrier in negotiations with Floridian owner Ned Doyle."

Ron Grinker said the purchase price of $1.5 million had been agreed upon and Floridian Vice President David Zack admitted the Cincinnati group "is the leading contender. Hopefully, we'll close it sometime this week."

The Floridians, averaging well under 2,500 at Miami Beach Convention Hall, have been losing almost $1 million a year for Doyle, a retired New York advertising millionaire.

The league must agree to any transfer.

Doyle paid $1 million for the broadcasting franchise two years ago and underwrote a barrage of promotions including bikini-clad ballgirls in an attempt to

Williams Best Grid Returner

NEW YORK (AP) — Travis Williams of Los Angeles, who blazed an electrifying 105 yards for a touchdown against New Orleans, was the National Football League's leading kickoff return specialist in 1971.

"The Roadrunner" of the Rams, who led the league in 1967 when he played for Green Bay, topped the runback men with a 29.7-yard average on 25 kickoff returns totaling 743 yards.

Ron Jessie of the Detroit Lions was second in the league and the National Conference with a 29.4 average on 16 returns totaling 470 yards.

The American Conference leader, fifth over-all, was Mercury Morris of the Miami Dolphins, who averaged 28.2 yards, amassing 423 yards on 15 returns.

Eating Way Out of House

EAST NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — George, a porcine poodle, is eating his way out of house and home—a $42,000 condominium apartment.
The by-laws at the Sunset House apartment on Marco Island restrict resident canines to no more than eight pounds.
"He's a little overweight, at about 14 pounds," admitted Rita Trilling, George's owner.
The condominium board of directors has filed a Circuit Court suit seeking to have George evicted and the Trillings fined $50 a day, retroactive to Jan. 10.
Attempts to curb George's histrionics around the doggie dish have proved futile, but the Trillings have solved the problem. They are selling their home and "going back to Portland, Maine."

A large early spring storm spread severe weather and travel warnings from northern Illinois to Mississippi today, with tornadoes, hail, heavy rain and snow reported in various areas.
A tornado dipped into an area near Clinton, Ark., late Tuesday, and heavy winds destroyed a tractor and uprooted several trees in a rural area of western Tennessee. No injuries were reported.
Hailstones up to 2 inches in diameter pounded sections of Arkansas. A thunderstorm with winds up to 46 miles per hour dumped nearly 2 inches of rain on Greenwood, Miss.
Heavy snow fell north of the rain areas. Up to 4 inches fell in Burlington, Iowa, and travel warnings were posted from Missouri to northern Illinois.
Snow also piled up in the Rockies, with 5 inches falling at Cheyenne, Wyo., and 2 inches at Kalispell, Mont.
Fair and cool weather was the rule over the rest of the country.
Temperatures before dawn ranged from 2 at Dickinson, N.D., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

The Chicago Police Department is undisciplined as to the use of weapons and a survey shows three times more persons are killed by police in Chicago than in the three other largest American cities, a private study group reports.

Marshall Patner, chairman of the Chicago Law Enforcement Study Group, told a news conference Tuesday that Chicago "has a trigger-happy society of policemen."

The Chicago Patrolmen's Association, an organization of rank-and-file policemen, took issue with the report, saying in a statement that the figures failed to point out how many of the deaths occurred due to an aggravated felony.

The association's statement said one of the reasons for the figures was "aggressive police work" responsible for Chicago's low crime rate.

The research group, a joint project of Northwestern University Center for Urban Affairs and a dozen community organizations, obtained comparative data from an International Association of Police Chiefs survey. It also made an independent two-year study.

The IACP survey showed that from July 1970 to March 1971 there were 32 police killings in Chicago compared with 21 in New York, 13 in Philadelphia, 8 in Los Angeles and 4 in Detroit. On a population ratio, Chicago had three times as many slayings as New York, Detroit and Los Angeles and 1.5 times as many as Philadelphia.

The group's private study of 1969 and 1970 showed 79 persons killed in Chicago, Patner said, and 59 of them were black.

Police Supt. James B. Conlisk said the 75-page report "implies some odious comparisons between the Chicago police department and police departments of other cities. We have no way of knowing the validity of the figures quoted."

Patner said the study showed the high death rate "exists alongside evidence of police misconduct and official laxity in punishing the police officers involved."

He added that the data for the study was obtained from the IACP, from newspaper accounts of police killings, from coroner inquest transcripts and other sources. Patner said police refused to reveal records of their investigations into police shootings.

Booby Trap Kills Two Americans

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong booby trap exploded on a jungle trail 31 miles east of Saigon today, killing two men of a small American reconnaissance patrol and wounding four.

The patrol was from a company of the 3rd Brigade, 1st Air Cavalry Division, the only American combat unit in the Saigon region.

Officers in the field said the company was searching for enemy elements reported in the region.

A second fight was reported in the region a short time later, and field reports said another American was wounded. Enemy losses were not known.

Rocket-firing helicopter gunships pounded suspected enemy positions as medical evacuation helicopters lifted out the dead and wounded.

The South Vietnamese command reported more action in the northern quarter of South Vietnam and in the central highlands.

U.S. B52 bombers wiped out a North Vietnamese base camp on the eastern edge of the A Shau Valley, 18 miles southwest of Hue, and South Vietnamese ground troops who followed up with a raid shortly after midnight reported 52 enemy killed and tons of war booty captured. The South Vietnamese troops

Breast Cancer Danger Is Greater in Some Families

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

CLEARWATER BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The danger that breast cancer may run in families is greater—in some cases by nine times—than has been generally supposed, a scientist said today.

It has been postulated that female relatives of mothers, sisters or aunts who had breast cancer face a two to threefold higher risk of getting such cancers than do unrelated women, said Dr. David E. Anderson of the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston, Tex.

But, a new on-going analysis of families is finding that the risk can be far higher and even nine times greater for some women, Anderson told an American Cancer Society seminar for science writers.

The defense is for high-risk women to have frequent check-ups using all available techniques to spot breast cancers early when they might be easily curable, the researcher said.

And such a more intensive screening program might well turn up clues as why different types of breast cancers develop and how to prevent them, he said.

The revision in estimating the risk for relatives is based partly upon evidence about differences between breast cancers that occur before or after a woman's menopause, said Anderson, a geneticist and professor of biology at the University of Texas.

The risk for relatives is about three times higher than average if a woman had a breast cancer before menopause, Anderson said.

The risk for relatives is less than two times higher than average if a woman developed breast cancer after menopause.

If a woman's cancer develops in both breasts after menopause, the risk to relatives is 5.4 times higher. If this happens before menopause, then the risk is nine times higher.

The genetic or hereditary factors seem to play a much more important role if women relatives had breast cancers in both breasts before menopause rather than in only one breast, he said.

Over-all, women are generally considered to have a 5 to 7 per cent chance of developing breast cancer during their lifetime, he said.

But, for some women, he said, the chances could reach a 45 per cent chance if they are related to women developing cancer in both breasts before menopause.

Spicy Testimony

To sensation-seekers at the courthouse, this was the big day. A local politician was on trial for seduction, and the victim—a 16-year-old schoolgirl—was scheduled to take the witness stand and tell her story.

But the girl became so nervous about testifying in public that the judge ordered everyone except relatives and newspaper reporters out of the courtroom.

Later found guilty, the defendant appealed on the ground that he had not had a public trial. However, his appeal was denied. The court said clearing the courtroom was justified if that was the only way to get the girl's story.

Courts generally agree that a judge may exclude spectators if the modesty of a witness makes that necessary. But suppose the purpose is not to protect the witness but to protect the public. May a judge exclude spectators because he thinks the testimony might corrupt their morals?

Unless local law authorizes it, judges ordinarily do not have that power—no matter how lurid the testimony may be. Thus:

In a rape case, the judge excluded spectators on the theory that their "only motive was to satisfy their morbid tastes." But an appellate court ruled that the judge had exceeded his authority. The court said the defendant's right to a public trial is too fundamental to be cast aside so easily.

A judgment of conviction, where the defendant has been refused a public trial, cannot stand," said the court, "even against the meanest criminal in the land."

What if the defendant himself wants to keep out spectators, for reasons of his own? In a pandering case, the defendant took that position, demanding that the entire proceedings be conducted in secret.

But the court ruled that he had no right to that much privacy. "A crime is a public wrong," said the court. "The community is deeply interested in the administration of justice, and the presence of its members at a trial is as basic as (the presence) of a defendant. The people have the right to know what is being done in their courts."

Laird Visits State

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — After an hour's tour of the Pine Bluff Arsenal here Tuesday, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said that destruction of germ warfare agents at the facility had been completed.

He said the installation would be turned over to the Food and Drug Administration next month following the evaporation of harmless waste products and a final cleanup.

The FDA will use the arsenal as its center for toxicological research on the effects of chemicals on man. The FDA and the Environmental Protection Agency will use the arsenal.

Laird told a news conference that phase-out of the germ stockpiles was another step by the Nixon administration in restructuring the armed forces toward a peacetime deterrent role.

The United States, he said, has a sufficient deterrent in its conventional and strategic forces with which to retaliate if another country waged germ warfare against this nation.

For this reason, Laird said, he has no qualms about the United States unilaterally disposing of its germ weapons even though the Soviet Union has "shown no inclination to get rid of its stockpiles."

Destruction of the germs began last May in line with President Nixon's renunciation 18 months earlier of the use of biological methods of warfare.

Pine Bluffs officials said the last of the biological material was decontaminated last Thursday at a total cost of about $12 million but without a single leak or incident.

All that now remains are the metal storage containers that have been sterilized and melted down to be sold for scrap.

The nation's germ warfare stock included antipersonnel agents and weapons that were stored here and anticrop agents that were stockpiled at Beale Air Force Base, Calif., Rocky Mountain Arsenal, Colo., and Ft. Detrick, Md.

Davis Case Resumes After Short Delay

By EDITH LEDERER

Associated Press Writer
SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The Angela Davis trial resumes today after a day's delay caused by a nearby jailbreak attempt that cost the ringleader his life as two hostages were rescued.

The escape attempt at the Santa Clara County jail Tuesday had no connection with the trial of the 28-year-old black militant, charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in the 1971 Marin County Courthouse shootout. That also was an escape attempt with hostages.

Four persons died, including a judge, in that violence.

Jacob Zitzer, also known as Jacob Williamson, a 30-year-old murder convict, was shot dead after more than two hours of negotiations with sheriff's deputies. Two other inmates were recaptured and their two hostages were rescued unhurt.

The incident began nearly an hour before Miss Davis' attorney, perhaps Miss Davis herself, were to begin opening statements in her Superior Court trial, being conducted under tight security just 200 feet from the scene of the escape attempt. It paralyzed the entire Civic Center complex.

The trial was recessed by Judge Richard E. Arnason, giving the defense an extra day to prepare its presentation.

Santa Rosa County Under-sheriff Tom Rosa said Zitzer and the other two prisoners, each armed with a 12-inch knife, entered the jail's sickbay on the second floor, took a lawyer and a secretary as hostages and demanded a getaway car with the motor running.

They threatened to kill the hostages unless their demands were met, Rosa said.

"To show they were not kidding, Zitzer plunged a knife into his own leg," he added.

Sheriff's deputies negotiated with the trio for two hours until one inmate demanded that Capt. Wesley Johnson surrender his gun and handcuffs. Johnson refused and Zitzer said, "Okay, we'll kill them all, then."

As Zitzer turned to walk back to an elevator where his companions were holding the hostages, a deputy fired one blast from a shotgun, killing him. Rosa said the gun was fired by Sgt. Robert Lee.

Deputies rushed to the elevator and released the hostages, identified as Sue Kawamoto, 20, the secretary, and Alex Safonoff, 30, a public defender.

The other two prisoners, Norman Lucas, 22, and Ted Guerrero, 24, were not injured but were taken to a hospital where doctors said they were in "an emotional state of shock."

Boycott If Busing Ordered

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A school boycott will be called if a federal judge orders pupils bused, an anti-busing leader threatened Tuesday as hearings began in the Memphis school desegregation suit.

Demonstrations for and against busing were conducted outside the federal building where Judge Robert McRae heard the lone witness called during the day describe busing as a drain on educational quality.

Dr. O. Z. Stephens, director of research and planning for Memphis schools, was called as a witness by the Memphis School Board.

As he testified, 202 mothers, part of a demonstration by Citizens Against Busing, ended a 5½ mile march outside where they met about 75 persons, mostly young and mostly black, demonstrating in favor of busing.

Police were on the scene and reported the only incident came when a police intelligence photographer swung quickly with his camera, snapping a taught 300-foot long anti-busing banner carried by the mothers.

The CAB group attempted to gain entrance to a City Council meeting being held next door to give the council a toy school bus containing an albino guinea pig named "Freedom."

CAB local President Ken Keele said the group wanted to show the council "what federal judges are trying to do with our children."

The council refused the "gift."

In the federal courtroom, there were 46 black spectators and 10 whites.

School board lawyer Jack Petree opened the hearing by telling the judge that the school board opposes any desegregation plan that calls for busing.

"Busing is an educationally sterile approach which will not raise educational achievement. And, if the court pleases, the name of the game is achievement," Petree said.

McClellan Uses Sports

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who is seeking re-election, went to the popular sports analogy in referring to his campaign during a speech to a Chamber of Commerce banquet here Tuesday night.

"Arkansas now has possession of the (economic) football," he said. "We are making progress and are in sight of the goal line. It's not time to fumble the ball."

The statement brought a round of applause from the audience.

"It is not time to get thrown for a loss," McClellan continued. "No coach would change quarterbacks at this stage of the game."

Emphasizing what he termed his "theory of developing our own resources in Arkansas to keep the youth in the state," the five-term senator said he has introduced legislation to encourage the decentralization of industry, and as it expands, to provide federal assistance for rural communities in such areas as waterworks, schools and housing.

He said this type of assistance would be rendered to communities that would need to upgrade such services in order to attract industrial growth.

"This bill is going to pass some day," he said, "and I hope to get through this little political pastime and interlude..." in order to get back to Washington to further promote the bill.

Polls Rank Wallace 4th in Wisconsin

By WALTER R. MEARS

AP Political Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who claims "I'm going to do well" in Wisconsin's presidential primary, is ranked No. 4 among the crowd of Democratic entries in a poll commissioned by his opponents in organized labor.

John W. Schmitt, president of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO, said Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and George McGovern of South Dakota all were rated ahead of Wallace in a telephone survey.

He refused to say what the poll indicated about their current standing or shares of support in the campaign for the primary next Tuesday.

"Go to the polls and give 'em a jolt," Wallace said as he campaigned for protest votes in Madison and La Crosse.

Humphrey, rated by most politicians as the Wisconsin favorite, went bowling in Wausau after telling some 300 people at a labor rally Tuesday night that the country needs jobs and his leadership could produce them.

He said the Republican administration is "pro-inter-national finance, pro-conglomerate, pro-merger and anti-people."

McGovern went on a hand-shaking tour of four bowling alleys in Milwaukee after a campaign day concentrated in the city's black neighborhoods.

"I think we have to make a greater effort than we have in the past to provide low and moderate priced housing in all parts of our cities," he said in a crowded recreation room at a Milwaukee housing project.

He said that would give people freedom of choice as to where they live and bring up their families.

Muskie, campaigning on his

58th birthday, said in Green Bay, "There is only one birthday gift I really want and that's a victory one week from tonight."

In Stevens Point, he proposed a $7.2-billion program of federal aid to improve schools and reduce the property-tax load.

Wallace drew an overflow crowd of 3,600 in La Crosse, called, as he boes nightly, for property-tax relief, and said the other candidates are copying him on that issue.

Today, Wallace headed south to Nashville, Tenn., for an address to the Tennessee General Assembly, formally opening his campaign for that state's May 4 primary.

The AFL-CIO poll, conducted by Oliver Quayle & Co., rated Sen. Henry M. Jackson in fifth place in Wisconsin, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay sixth.

It estimated Wallace support at 12 per cent, 15 per cent with his share of the undecided vote added.

Bombs Kill Two in Northern Ireland

By COLIN FROST

Associated Press Writer

BELFAST (AP) — Bombs killed two persons and wrecked a row of shops and Protestant mobs destroyed two Catholic homes and drove the occupants from others Tuesday as the violence in Northern Ireland took a new turn.

The bombs went off at Lismavady, in County Derry. One was planted in a truck outside a police station and killed two civilians driving past. The blast blew out the windows of the police station, slightly injuring a typist. The other bomb destroyed several stores.

The Protestant mobs, dormant for more than a year, took to the streets Tuesday night after a giant rally protesting the adjournment of the provincial parliament and its suspension for a year.

The moves were ordered by Britain as part of a plan aimed at ending 32 months of violence in Ulster. The British House of Commons voted 403 to 18 Tuesday night to support direct rule from London. The measure becomes law tonight.

Crowds of Protestant youths attacked a store on Belfast's Oldpark Road, a street where Roman Catholics are a 3-1 minority. The homes of two Catholic families were burned.

Earlier in the evening, elderly Catholics were driven out of their houses in the same street by Protestant youths who smashed their windows with stones. Fire engines were pelted with missiles, and British troops had to force their way to the fire with armored cars.

A ring of armor was thrown around Belfast's Catholic Unity Flats district when it was threatened by a Protestant crowd.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. said Tuesday that proved natural gas reserves in the areas that have been traditional supply sources declined by 1.8 trillion cubic feet last year.

Arkla released the report in connection with the annual report of the American Gas Association on natural gas reserves in the continental United States. The AGA said reserves in the nation dropped 4.7 per cent in 1971, the fourth successive year for a decline.

Arkla's figures covered Arkansas, North Louisiana, Oklahoma and Districts 5 and 6 in Texas.

Two Students File Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two pupils of the West Side School District (Clebune County) filed suit in U.S. District Court here Tuesday charging that the district's dress code was unconstitutional.

The pupils are Richard Davis and John C. Davis.

The suit said the two have been out of class since Richard was told by school officials March 16 that he could not attend school with his shirt tail out, and since John Davis was told March 6 that he would have to get his hair cut.

The suit claims the code violates the plaintiffs' right to freedom of speech and expression. The suit asks that the district be temporarily enjoined from enforcing the dress code until the suit is tried.

Making Some Lye Soap Really Not Her Scene

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bashing her film husband over the head with a poker "really isn't my scene," actress Joan Collins says wryly of her role in her first, and she claims, her last horror movie.

Miss Collins, who looks lovely as she calmly commits bloody murder in one of the five segments making up "Tales from the Crypt," described her part in the film as "murdering my husband and then running around looking frightened while being attacked and murdered myself by a homicidal maniac wearing a Santa Claus suit. Good, clean, simple fun!"

The attractive actress says she has turned down offers to appear in other horror films because "I find it very difficult to keep a straight face while doing the sort of theatrics that are required in this type of film."

In "Tales," she points out, "I murder my husband for his insurance by hitting him over the head with a poker. That's ludicrous. I'd have to be built like King Kong to have hit him hard enough to kill him."

"That's what I mean about horror films. None of it makes sense. But if one is an actor one just goes ahead and does the job. Actually, I think everyone should do something once, and as far as horror goes I've just done it."

The British actress, former wife of actor Anthony Newley and now married to producer Ronald Kass, says, "I'd much rather be on television, which in England is very good. Actually I do appear on TV with monotonous regularity. They show some of my old movies and reruns of some of the TV series I worked in."

Miss Collins' movie credits include: "The Virgin Queen," "The Girl on the Red Velvet Swing," "Island in the Sun," and "Rally Round the Flag Boys." She says she hopes to act later this year in a television production of "The Taming of the Shrew."

She says she prefers to appear on television rather than in films because "in TV there is not so much emphasis on technique, of playing it exactly as the director wants you to play it."

"I think I learned more from a half dozen TV shows than I did from my 15 or 20 movies because on TV I was left to my own devices a great deal. I was left free to experiment with different ways of doing things. In films, you know, you are pretty much the puppet of the director."

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset House Action on Clean Water Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final House action was expected today on a $24.6-billion water-pollution-control bill aimed at cleaning up the nation's waterways by 1981.

Environmentalists lost ground Tuesday as the House voted down a series of amendments proposed to toughen the legislation. Although the environmental backers were never sure of victory, the losses were more than expected.

One major amendment, setting 1981 as the deadline for industries to adopt the "best available technology" to treat wastes discharged into waterways, was defeated 248 to 140.

The amendment would have brought the bill in line with the clean-water rules already passed in the Senate. Its defeat leaves the House bill with 1981 as a goal and not as a deadline. Even that would be subject to a federal study and a further vote by Congress.

The Senate version would not require a second congressional vote.

Rep. Sidney Zion, R-Ind., argued that such an inflexible deadline could cost nearly $2 trillion and thousands of jobs.

Another major amendment defeated Tuesday would have continued authority for the Environmental Protection Agency to issue waste-discharge permits to industries. It was voted down 251 to 114.

Both House and Senate versions transfer this authority to the states, although the Senate bill would allow EPA veto power over individual approvals.

Both defeated amendments were sponsored by Reps. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and John Dingell, D-Mich.

The main points of the Senate bill would have industries using the best pollution-control devices on discharge systems by 1981, with a total halt to discharges by 1985.

The House measure would authorize the $24.6 billion to be spent on construction grants, research, and loans to small business which cannot afford the cost of cleanup to meet the federal standards.

Nixon Reviews for Visit to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preparations for President Nixon's May summit conference in Moscow include a through review of the Soviet Union's military activities in Cuba, according to Pentagon sources.

The review centers, the sources say, on the continuing series of Soviet ship movements in the Caribbean. Soviet ships have been using the Cuban port of Cienfuegos for vessel-servicing and crew recreation.

Nixon has said publicly Cuba might be a subject at the Moscow talks.

He has come under pressure from some Democrats and from some officials within his administration to take a stronger stand against the Soviet military presence in the Caribbean.

Some U.S. officials say the Soviet presence is more important to Moscow for political and psychological reasons than for its military implications, although the latter also is recognized.

There is some speculation here that the Kremlin would like to see the United States and Cuba move toward a more nearly normal relationship.

It is said the Soviets believe that only through a U.S.-Cuba detente would the Fidel Castro regime be able to expand its diplomatic contacts within the hemispheric community because the area is still basically U.S.-oriented.

A major obstacle to Moscow's reported goal of encouraging broadened Cuban representation in Latin America may be Castro himself, many believe.

Castro made it known late last year he is no longer inflexibly opposed to moving toward

Hundreds Protest the Death Penalty Ruling

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The California Supreme Court has received hundreds of letters opposing its ruling against the death penalty, including one addressed to "bubble-headed dum-dums."

"Nuts to you" was the signature.

It was one of more than 800 letters and postcards the state high court has received since its Feb. 18 ruling that the death penalty violates the California Constitution's protection against cruel or unusual punishment.

Gale Bishell, clerk in the court's San Francisco headquarters, estimates that 700 of the missives are against the court's 6-1 ruling.

"Millions will now start carrying guns as the courts condone crime and make heroes out of violators," fumed "Nuts to you."

Another writer suggested a vote against every judge whose appointment is up for confirmation.

"Some good judges may be hurt—but there are enough bad apples in the judicial barrel to cast doubt on all of them," the writer added.

A letter from a traveling citizen in Algeria was addressed to "The Department of Injustice Building" in Sacramento.

"After reading of our 'learned and august' Supreme (?) Court's decision, the first question that came to my mind is how can we citizens fire the Supreme Court judges?" the writer said.

Gov. Ronald Reagan's press secretary, Ed Gray, said the governor's office received 3,700 letters in the month following the ruling with 77 writers agreeing with the court.

"I don't think, for the same period of time, we have ever gotten anything like this number of letters," Gray said.

Not all the letters are uncomplimentary.

"The Supreme Court has made a good decision in the interests of human life," said one supporter.

"In the face of so much opposition you deserve special congratulations," wrote a San Diego woman.

"It's starting to taper off now," said Al Bradovich, the court's clerk in Sacramento, where most of the mail has been received.

He and Bishell estimated that about one-fourth of the mail is anonymous.

None of the justices has publicly commented on the mail.

"They read it," Bishell said. "I doubt if they spend much time with the unsigned mail."

A petition campaign is under way to place a constitutional amendment restoring the death penalty on California's November ballot.

New Sears Charge Plan

Sears, Roebuck and Co. will introduce a new charge account system named SearsCharge for Arkansas residents.

Announcement was made by David Still, Manager, who said that the new plan will go into effect on May 1.

"The purpose of SearsCharge is to provide our customers in Arkansas with new ease, convenience and economy in shopping at Sears on credit," Still said.

According to David Still, the new SearsCharge plan will combine the best features of two separate credit programs now offered by Sears to Arkansas customers.

With SearsCharge, customers will be able to make small or large purchases with a single credit card. The two credit programs being replaced are the Sears Revolving Credit Account and an Easy Payment Plan, which generally was used for larger purchases where an extended payment period was desired.

A significant customer benefit of the new plan is that lower monthly payments will be required, generally about half as much as specified under the discontinued Sears Revolving Credit account.

ANTICIPATE CRIME

She's one of a team of three on the criminal analysis staff. Their job: to pick the trends in area robberies and help the police be at the right spot ahead of time.

In an office whose walls are covered with maps dotted with markers showing robbery sites, Martha tries to chart the movement of auto thieves and bandits. The others on the team, a plainclothes officer and a woman, keep up with business and residential burglaries.

Nutrition Label Proposed

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today proposed a voluntary nutrition-labeling program which would tell consumers at a glance the amount of vitamins, minerals and protein in packaged food.

If implemented nationwide,

FDA Commissioner Charles B. Edwards said, it "could provide one of the most fundamental changes in the history of food-labeling in this country."

The concept was endorsed by the 1969 White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health which recommended: "Every manufacturer should be encouraged to provide truthful nutritional information to consumers about his product to enable them to follow recommended dietary regimen."

Although unlikely to become mandatory for years, an FDA spokesman said many food manufacturers could be expected to pick up the idea at once.

Those participating in the program would be required to label a food's caloric content in terms of cups or slices; number of grams of protein, fat and carbohydrates; and at least seven specific vitamins and minerals in percentage of an average person's recommended daily allowance.

At minimum, the labeling would have to include the percentage of vitamins A, C, B1 and B2, niacin, calcium, and iron, but also could include various other vitamins and minerals.

Interested parties have 90 days to comment on the proposal.

Originally starting with six alternative approaches to nutrition labeling, the FDA said it enlisted the help of professional nutrition groups, consumer organizations, the food industry, home economists and dietitians to pare the choices at hand.

Five big food-store chains—Giant, Jewel, Kroger, First National and National Co-Op—carried out tests of the remaining alternative plans in their stores.

"Out of several hundred letters from consumers, only three opposed nutrition labeling," the FDA said. "Those objected because of anticipated price increases resulting from the labeling."

The agency did not indicate whether it thinks the new labeling proposal would boost food prices.

Med Center Financing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers says he now believes the state can finance an expansion of the physical facilities at the University of Arkansas Medical Center without a new tax or a bond issue.

The governor said Tuesday the state revenue picture was "very encouraging," providing sufficient money to fund $22 million in existing state construction commitments.

Bumpers had suggested last year that an expansion of the Medical Center might be financed by a dedicated tax or a bond issue.

"I now believe it will be possible to expand the physical facilities at the Medical Center without additional taxes," he said.

Dr. James L. Dennis, university vice president for health sciences, said Saturday that preliminary plans had been developed for a Medical Center enlargement.

Bumpers said he had not gone over the details with Dennis, but said he wanted to talk with him.

ORDINANCE NO. 889

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT REVENUE BONDS UNDER ACT NO. 9 OF THE FIRST EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF THE SIXTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, APPROVED JANUARY 21, 1960, AS AMENDED, FOR THE PURPOSE OF SECURING AND DEVELOPING INDUSTRIAL PROJECTS DESCRIBED IN THE ORDINANCE; AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF A TRUST INDENTURE SECURING THE BONDS; AUTHORIZING AND PRESCRIBING OTHER MATTERS PERTAINING TO SAID INDUSTRIAL PROJECT, THE CONSTRUCTING THEREOF AND THE FINANCING THEREOF; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the City Hope, Arkansas (called "City") is authorized by Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended (called "Act No. 9"), to acquire lands, construct and equip manufacturing buildings, improvements and facilities and to incur other costs and expenses and make other expenditures incidental to and for the implementing and accomplishing of the conduct of manufacturing operations; and

WHEREAS, the necessary arrangements have been made with WYNNEWOOD PRODUCTS CO., a Texas corporation (called "Wynnewood"), to construct an industrial project, which project will consist of lands, buildings, improvements, and facilities to be operated for the manufacture and sale of particle board and related wood products with necessary incidental expenses and expenditures in connection therewith (called the "Project") or the "Industrial Project") and to lease the Project to Wynnewood pursuant to the terms of a Lease Agreement (referred to as the "Lease Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, financing of the Project costs, necessary costs and expenditures incidental thereto and the expeditious commencement of manufacturing operations, the cost of the issuance of bonds and the amount necessary to provide for interest on bonds until Project revenues are available is being furnished by the issuance of Industrial Development Revenue Bonds by the City under the provisions of Act No. 9 in the principal amount of Three Million Six Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,600,000.00) (before conversion), (called "bonds" or "Act No. 9 Bonds"); and

WHEREAS, there has been submitted to the electors of the City the question of issuing the Act 9 Bonds at a special election, and at said election the electors approved the issuance of the Act 9 Bonds; and

WHEREAS, the City has sold the said Act 9 Bonds to Sullivan, Trulock & Dillingham, of Little Rock, Arkansas; and

WHEREAS, the purchaser has converted the bonds as sold with an interest rate of 7 percent per annum into an issue of bonds in the principal amount of Three Million Six Hundred Fifty-five Thousand Dollars ($3,655,000.00) bearing interest at the rates of 6 percent and 7 percent per annum, dated, bearing interest and maturing as hereinafter in said Indenture set forth in detail;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS:

Section 1. That there be, and there is hereby, approved, authorized and directed the following:

(a) The sale of the bonds to the purchaser identified above; and
(b) The acquisition of the title to the lands embodied in the Project (hereafter described in the form of Trust Indenture authorized by this Ordinance).

Section 2. That Industrial Development Revenue Bonds of the City under Act No. 9 in the total principal amount of Three Million Six Hundred Fifty-five Thousand Dollars ($3,655,000), (called "bonds"), are hereby authorized and ordered issued, and to prescribe the terms and conditions upon which the bonds are to be secured, executed, authenticated, accepted and held, the Mayor is hereby authorized and directed to execute and acknowledge the Trust Indenture, and the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to execute and acknowledge the Trust Indenture to and to affix the seal of the City thereto, and the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to cause the Trust Indenture to be accepted, executed and acknowledged by the Trustee, with the Trust Indenture, which constitutes and is hereby made a part of this Ordinance, to be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

(Advice is hereby given that a copy of the form of Trust Indenture is on file in the office of the City Clerk, and reference may be had thereto by any interested person.)

Section 3. That the Mayor and City Clerk, for and on behalf of the City, be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed to do any and all things necessary to effect the execution of the Trust Indenture, its execution and acceptance by the Trustee, the performance of all obligations of the City under and pursuant to the Trust Indenture, the execution and delivery of the bonds, and the performance of all other acts of whatever nature necessary to effect and carry out the authority conferred by this Ordinance and by the Trust Indenture. That the Mayor and City Clerk be, and they are hereby, further authorized and directed, for and on behalf of the City, to execute all papers, documents, certificates and other instruments that may be required for the carrying out of the authority conferred by this Ordinance and the Trust Indenture, or to evidence said authority and its exercise.

Section 4. That since we are here involved with the constructing and equipping of a complex industrial project requiring highly specialized work and specialized types of machinery and equipment and materials, it has been and is hereby determined that competitive bidding is not feasible or practical. THEREFORE, any requirements under ordinances of the City or under the general laws of the State of Arkansas for competitive bidding be, and the same are hereby, waived for this particular Project. This action is taken by the City Council pursuant to the authority conferred by Act No. 9 and because the action so taken has been made a condition precedent to the securing and developing of this particular Industrial Project.

Section 5. That the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be separable, and if any section, phrase, or provision shall for any reason be declared to be invalid, such declaration shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the sections, phrases and provisions.

Section 6. That all ordinances, resolutions and parts thereof in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Section 7. That there is hereby found and declared to be an immediate need for the securing and developing of substantial industrial operations in order to provide additional employment, alleviate unemployment and otherwise benefit the public health, safety and welfare of the City and the inhabitants thereof, and the issuance of the bonds authorized hereby and the taking of the other action authorized herein are immediately necessary in connection with the securing and developing of substantial industrial operations and deriving the public benefits referred to above. IT IS, THEREFORE, declared that an emergency exists and this Ordinance being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and welfare shall be in force and take effect immediately upon and after its passage.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Popping Joints May Be from Gas

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Every time I move a joint it pops and I stay sore and hurting all the time. I have been to see several doctors, but they can't seem to help me. I am 35 years old and a builder who does all kinds of work from laying brick and block to carpentry. I also have muscle spasms which seem to get worse. Do you know of anything that will help me? I will try almost anything. I can't work or anything the way I want to. The pain is terrible, and I go as long as I can without seeing a doctor.

I do not take medicine when I can get by without it. If I have arthritis and muscle spasms is there anything that will do any good? Will this continue to get worse as the years go by?

Dear Reader — The noises made by that joint popping are not necessarily arthritis. Some popping of the joints apparently is related to the accumulation of free gas within the joint space. All of us have a certain amount of gasses dissolved in our body fluids, including oxygen and nitrogen. These gasses are only slightly soluble in liquids and it is easy for some of these gasses to escape and form small bubbles. This sometimes has something to do with the popping of joints. There are other factors too which can cause joint problems. Ordinary joint popping should not cause joint spasm or pain of type you describe. It is not possible from your story to determine exactly what you have, but it is clear to me that you are not seeing a rheumatologist (a specialist in bone and joint problems like arthritis). If you can't find a rheumatologist either call or write to the nearest county medical society and ask them to recommend one near to you.

If you do have rheumatoid arthritis, I think some careful attention should be given to your occupation. You would need to do things that would not overload your joints and laying bricks and blocks doesn't sound to me like the ideal.

At your relatively young age, I think it would be very important for you to make a major effort to determine what your difficulty is. If you have rheumatoid arthritis, you may have to live with it for many years, and how well you do this depends on what type of medical supervision you really have. So let me urge you strongly to be certain that you are being seen by a rheumatologist. Stay with him so he can do something to help your living patterns.

'Love Story' Author Plays Astrologer in New Film

By LYNN SHERR Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Philippe Labro is the man who ordered Erich Segal shot.

But unlike the cynics who sniped at Segal's book, "Love Story," Labro saw his orders carried out — in the movie he directed. "Without Apparent Motive," it's a thriller based on an Ed McBain story in which Segal plays his first movie role — a Swiss astrologer who gets wiped out with a single bullet.

"I knew Segal from way back," said Labro, 35, a handsome French newspaper columnist, on a recent visit to New York. He loved the idea. He just jumped at the chance. My problem was to play him down. He kept trying to upstage the star.

The star is Jean-Louis Trintignant, whom director Labro sees as the new American Humphrey Bogart. Labro also plays a role in his own film — about 30 seconds' worth, as a journalist taking dictation.

Shades of Alfred Hitchcock? Not really. Labro, who calls himself "the only French Americanophile living in Paris," claims the decidedly more Yankee influences of Orson Welles, John Ford, Howard Hawks. He also prefers the American style of reviewing — no personal contact with the artist until after the review — and the American way of life.

"I just think America has more energy and vigor and imagination and life than any country I've traveled in," said the man who has covered the Algerian war, President John F. Kennedy's assassination and the Tokyo Olympics.

"Maybe I'm a pace addict. Maybe I like tension. I just think New York is alive and Paris is dead."

Labro proudly wears a blue-stone ring from Washington and Lee University, which he attended for two years. His love of things American even carried over to the movie set at Nice, last year, where he ordered the rolling of the cameras with an English "Action!" rather than the French "Partez!"

Shooting the film meant giving up more than seven of his weekly columns. But it was a sacrifice he gladly made, and would be glad to make in the future — permanently.

"Directing is not as lonely a trade as journalism," he said. "A journalist goes alone on an event, by himself covering the story, writing it, dictating it. He never sees his readers. "But when you do a film, you work with writers, with a crew. It's still an individual effort, but there's a team with you. And it's better than any psychiatrist's couch," he added with a laugh. "You discover things in yourself that you didn't know you had."

Grant for Headstart

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $77,400 Headstart grant for Arkansas State University, the office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Monday.

The funds will be used to provide technical and training assistance to local programs.

$48,000 Grant to Chicot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Economic Development Agency has awarded Chicot County and Lake Village a $48,000 grant.

The money will be used for a county jail and a municipal courtroom, said the office of Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The steady free bidder gets in a lot of bids during the course of a bridge game. He also gets in a lot of trouble with these bids that just aren't really going to do him any good.

West's two-diamond overcall is a good example. He had nothing to gain by it and he might well have run into a killing double. He escaped that fate since East had enough cards to protect him, but his overcall told South
how to make his contract.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the suit. South ruffed the third diamond and drew trumps with three leads. East discarded a club.
South cashed the ace and king of clubs just to see if West would follow suit. West did.

How many spades did West hold? Not many! He had shown up with 11 cards in the other suits.

Who held the king of spades? West probably.
Even the most dedicated steady free bidder wasn't likely to put in a vulnerable overcall at the two level on a six-card suit to the king-queen and nothing on the side.

Could South make the hand
now? Yes, he could and did!
South led a low spade and stuck in dummy's eight. East won with the jack, a useless false card, and returned a club. South ruffed with his last trump and led a spade to dummy's ace. West had to play the king whereupon South had no problem about finishing against the ten.

South's count had shown that West could not hold another spade.

Tax Break in Child Care

By CARLTON SMITH

Don't miss one of the biggest tax breaks to come along in years, if the family has deductible expenses this year for babysitters, household help or other costs of child care.

No longer limited to working mothers at near-poverty levels, the full deduction—it can be as much as $4,800—now comes to the aid of working couples with up to $18,000 of income. Above that it's reduced, but some part of it is available until income reaches $27,600.

Many families apparently don't yet realize that the benefit has been greatly enlarged, not only as to income limits, but in several other respects:

- It now covers children up to age 15. The age limit previously was 13.
- It also covers care of disabled adult dependents, including a husband or wife. Until now, tax rulings held that a husband or wife could not be treated as a dependent.
- The cost of household services is now included, as part of the care of a child or disabled dependent.

Under the old rules, a distinction had to be made between time spent strictly in care of the person and time spent on housework. For example, if a housekeeper spent one-third of her time babysitting and two-thirds on housework, only a third of her wages was deductible. That's no longer the case.

Expenses up to $400 a month are deductible for child care, either in the home or out. The cost of nurseries, day care facilities or private boarding schools is covered, to the extent that care is a necessity for a mother working full time. The deduction is limited to $200 a month for one child, $300 for two and $400 a month for three or more.

This makes possible a maximum deduction of $4,800 a year, in contrast to the $900 formerly allowed—and then only to families with an income of not more than $6,000 a year.

You won't find all this explained, yet, in official tax instructions. It's part of a tax law revision that's too recent. While it applies to expenses incurred during 1972, from the first of the year, the deductions can't be taken on returns filed this April, which cover the 1971 calendar year. Eligible families should be keeping records of expenses now, though, to compute the deduction on returns filed next year.

In commenting on the new provisions, the accounting firm of Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery points out that working couples claiming the deduction must each be employed "full time," interpreted to mean at least three-quarters of a normal, 40-hour week. They must file joint returns, and deductions must be itemized; the blanket standard deduction can't be used.

Lybrand cautions that the IRS won't allow the deduction on payments made to the taxpayer's relatives or dependents. You can't pay grandmother to babysit, for example, and get any tax break.

Where family income is above $18,000, for each dollar over that figure the deduction is reduced by 50 cents. Thus it's reduced to zero when family income reaches $27,600.

Formerly the deduction allowed for one child was $600 a year, and even that was lost altogether when family income exceeded $6,000. It wasn't economically feasible for many mothers to seek employment.

The new tax break makes up to $2,400 a year deductible for the one-child family earning not more than $18,000. Obviously, many previously unliberated women, who were more valuable at home as babysitters, are now freed to join the ranks of the workers.
